The Freedom Paper Company

Freedom Paper Company LLC (FPC) is a privately owned light manufacturer and distributor of bathroom tissue, other paper products, Jan San, food service, and stationary/office products headquartered in Baltimore Maryland. The company is unique from other corporations as it is born from the foundation of grassroots movement combined with the best of corporate culture and business acumen.

FPC has instituted a new business paradigm for the 21st century as it seeks to be profitable for its investors, while being conscious of both the environment and the communities it serves. The firm takes the approach of nature itself, never taking without giving back. Freedom Paper Company provides a multitude of benefits through its products including small business development and customer incentives.

The Nspire Network

The Nspire Network Company provides a wonderful alternative and natural product that helps to increase greater awareness regarding women’s health issues and concerns with the US introduction of the Cherish sanitary napkin.

This personal body care product breakthrough has a unique negative ion strip that has been proven to have health benefits that include the possible reduction of pain and inflammation during the monthly cycle and may help to neutralize unwanted odors. This is certainly a welcomed, and much needed, new product that is carefully and responsibly designed for personal feminine hygiene needs, for millions of women worldwide, especially for the most sensitive time of the month.
